Newport Beach, CA, June 4, 2024 – L Squared Capital Partners (“L Squared”) announced today a significant growth investment in TeachTown (“the Company”). TeachTown is a leading provider of special education solutions for students with moderate to severe learning challenges.

Since its founding in 2003, TeachTown has been dedicated to improving the academic, behavioral, and adaptive functioning of students with disabilities from Pre-K through 12th grade, empowering them to reach their educational goals with evidence-based instructional practices.

In recent years, TeachTown has invested meaningfully in product development, expanding its enCORE product, a comprehensive, standards-based core curriculum for students with moderate to severe learning disabilities.

TeachTown now has a market leading, integrated platform, anchored by a pre-K-12 core curriculum solution, which combines personalized digital learning solutions with engaging, high-quality literature and physical materials.

“We are excited to partner with the management team at TeachTown in this next chapter of the Company,” said Adam Kimura, Partner at L Squared. “We strongly believe in TeachTown’s mission to drive positive educational outcomes for the largely underserved population of students in the U.S. with disabilities. We look forward to investing further in TeachTown’s products to drive meaningful outcomes for both students and educators.”

TeachTown has grown tremendously since its inception and today supports more than 100,000 students with differentiated products and purpose-built curriculum and continues to drive outstanding achievement for children in both academic and emotional development.
